If the sale fails to close, the earnest money will be returned to Buyer, except as otherwise provided for herein.

4. Due Diligence. The Buyer shall have a sixty (60) day Due Diligence period commencing immediately following the Effective Date of this Agreement. During the Due Diligence period, the Buyer may enter the property as provided below and may terminate this Agreement with or without cause. In the event of such termination, Buyer shall receive a full refund of the Earnest Money. At the conclusion of the Due Diligence period, the Buyer's right to terminate as described in this Section shall expire. Buyer shall procure, at Buyer's cost, a written title opinion establishing that title to the Property is good, insurable, and marketable, and vested in Seller. Buyer, after examining said title opinion, shall notify Seller of any defects or unacceptable exceptions thereto at least ten (10) days prior to the end of the Due Diligence period. If the Buyer declines to accept the Property due to an unresolved title defect or other exception to title, then this Agreement shall be null and void, whereupon the parties hereto shall have no further rights, duties, obligations, or liabilities to one another hereunder, and Buyer shall receive a full refund of the Earnest Money.

The Buyer will be solely responsible for any taxes, assessments, or encumbrances against the Property following the Closing of this transaction.
8. Risk of Loss. All risk of loss or damage to the Property will pass from the Seller to the Buyer at Closing. In the event that loss or damage occurs to the Property prior to Closing, the Buyer may, without liability, refuse to accept the conveyance of title and receive a full refund of the Earnest Money, or it alternatively may elect to accept the conveyance of title to the Property "AS IS."
10. Right of Entry. The Buyer may enter upon the Property at reasonable times for surveying and other reasonable purposes related to this transaction from the Effective Date of this Agreement through and including the last day of the Due Diligence Period described above. The Buyer's entry upon the Property shall not unreasonably interfere with Seller's ongoing operations or cause any permanent or long-term damage to the Property.
11. Preservation of Property. The Seller agrees that the Property shall remain as it now is until the delivery of possession of the Property by the Seller to the Buyer, and that the Seller will prevent and refrain from any use of the Property for any purpose or in any manner which would adversely affect the Buyer's use and enjoyment of the Property in the future.
