FIRE DEPARTMENT ANNUAL REPORT
RECEIVES NATIONAL AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE

Publication is named 'Best in Class'

FORSYTHCOUNTY, Georgia – The National Association of County Information Officers (NACIO) has recognized a Forsyth County government publication for excellence, through the 2011 NACIO Awards of Excellence program. The Forsyth County Fire Department 2009 Annual Report has been named the 'Best in Class' winner in the annual reports category.

“We publish the report with our citizens in mind, in order to better acquaint them with their Fire Department and the many important services we provide,” Fire Chief Danny Bowman said. “We are certainly proud that it has been recognized with this award.”

The Fire Department Annual Report is an informational tool, providing key information about the department, as well as annual news such as events and accomplishments. The publication is prepared jointly by the Fire Department and the Department of Communications. The Fire Department began publishing the annual report in 2005.

Printed copies of the report are available at the Forsyth County Public Safety Complex, staffed fire stations and the County Administration Building. The report can also be viewed online from the Fire Department page at www.forsythco.com.

NACIO is an affiliate of the National Association of Counties (NACo). Established in 1996, NACIO promotes effective communication between counties and citizens.
