

FORSYTHCOUNTY
Department of Communications
Release 000513
September 20, 2011

Contact: Jodi B. Gardner
Director of Communications
770.886.2802
JBGardner@forsythco.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OPEN HOUSE FOR FORSYTH COUNTY'S NEW SEXTON HALL
ENRICHMENT CENTER SCHEDULED FOR SEPTEMBER 30

Facility funded by SPLOST VI

FORSYTHCOUNTY, Georgia – Forsyth County is slated to officially open its third Senior Services facility, the Sexton Hall Enrichment Center, on Friday, September 30, with a ribbon cutting ceremony and open house beginning at 10 a.m. The new Sexton Hall Enrichment Center is located at 2115 Chloe Road, just off of Sharon Road between Peachtree Parkway and Old Atlanta Road (formerly the location of Lakeland Community Church).

The public is invited to attend the event and tour the facility, the acquisition and renovation of which was funded by the current Special Purpose Local Option Sales Tax program, SPLOST VI.

Sexton Hall Enrichment Center will serve active adults ages 50+ and offer a variety of opportunities including art, music, drama, continuing education, technology, fitness and leisure activities.

“We are very excited to open up this facility,” Director of Senior Services Shelley Johnson said. “It will allow us to better serve our seniors in the south portion of the county, and will also allow us to provide programs focused on life-long learning for our community’s active adults.”

Sexton Hall Enrichment Center joins Forsyth County’s two existing Senior Services locations – the Center at Charles Place at 595 Dahlonega Highway and the Hearthstone Lodge Community Center at 7305 Lanier Drive.

-more-

Forsyth County Senior Services' mission is to be the focal point where older adults gather for services and activities that respond to their diverse needs and interests, enhance their dignity, support their independence and encourage involvement in their community. For additional information, call Senior Services at 770.781.2178.

###