FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

KEEP FORSYTH COUNTY BEAUTIFUL TO HOST
FREE ADOPT-A-STREAM WORKSHOPS

Programs will instruct proper monitoring of local waterways

FORSYTHCOUNTY, Georgia – Keep Forsyth County Beautiful (KFCB) will host several workshops designed to educate citizens on how they can help protect local waterways through the Adopt-A-Stream program. The Adopt-A-Stream program informs citizens on how to monitor local water quality while advising on the most effective ways to protect local water resources.

Citizens are encouraged to attend two different free workshops, which are suitable for ages third grade and up. The two workshops will cover three separate certifications (macroinvertebrate, chemical and bacterial). Upon completion of the workshops, attendees will be presented a certificate from Georgia Adopt-A-Stream for each certification completed. The certification allows you to report water quality data for the Adopt-A-Stream program anywhere in the state of Georgia.

The first workshop is Macroinvertebrate Assessment. This workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 6 and Saturday, August 8 at the Central Park Recreation Center; and Saturday, October 3 at Cumming City Hall. During the Macroinvertebrate Assessment Workshop, attendees will learn how to collect, identify and count stream insects in order to assess the stream's quality.

The second workshop is Chemical and Bacterial Certification. This workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, June 13 and Saturday, August 15 at Central Park Recreation Center; and Saturday, October 10 at Cumming City Hall. The Chemical and Bacterial Certification Workshop will educate attendees on how to perform basic chemical
