FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RENOVATED SHARON SPRINGS TAG OFFICE
TO REOPEN OCTOBER 12

Project focused on enhanced customer service

FORSYTHCOUNTY, Georgia – With renovations complete, the Sharon Springs branch of the Forsyth County Tax Commissioner’s Office, which is located inside Sharon Springs Park, is scheduled to reopen Monday, October 12 at 8:30 a.m. The renovation project involved increasing the size of the lobby/waiting area as well as a redesign of the customer service counters. The remodeling provides additional seating while allowing for future growth and better management of customer flow.

Forsyth County Tax Commissioner Matthew Ledbetter is excited for the renovations to be completed and to reopen the branch.

“Customer service is our highest priority and these renovations will enable us to provide a greater customer service experience for everyone who visits the branch,” said Ledbetter. “We sincerely appreciate the patience of our citizens while this work has been underway. We look forward to welcoming everyone to the renovated branch when it reopens October 12.”

The branch temporarily closed for the renovations August 1. First opening in 1999, this was the first expansion or redesign of the Sharon Springs branch.
